Western countries get dumber by the day

Leading elites are blind to the consequences of low-IQ immigration

Differential fertility and the recent massive low-IQ migration from South to North explain why Europe and the US get dumber by the day. Yet, leading political and academic elites neither understand why, nor see the devastating consequences of this demographic transition.

It is not difficult to illustrate how modern democracy and welfare states came about, and why welfare and migration may destroy them again by making the world dumber.

A couple of recent scientific reports have illustrated how freezing winters might have weeded out the weak, the dumb, and the infirm migrants from the gene pool as they headed north after leaving Africa in prehistoric times.

According to British researcher Richard Lynn, low-IQ migrants tend to forget to save food for the winter and secure warm clothing and protective shelter, so they disappeared over time, leaving only the bright to cope in the cold. This selection pressure produced the IQ gradient we see today, with an African average IQ of 70 at the low end, and a north-east Asian IQ of 105 at the high end.

Danish average intelligence was about 98 IQ points in the 1960s, and this had important implications. As IQ is 60-80 percent hereditary, Danish school children could compete with the best in the world. IQ is closely related to GDP, an economic measure of international competitive achievement, and due to its average IQ, Denmark flourished and became one of the richest countries in the world -despite the absence of natural resources.

Finnish researcher Tatu Vanhanen examined differences in average national IQs and found that remarkably few, if any, countries with an average IQ below 90 had ever established a democratic welfare state like Denmark. Intelligence is very important for individual success but also so for the well-being of a country.

Tragically, as my research has shown, the co-appearance of high IQ, democracy and welfare also spells self-destruction. Remember that it was natural Darwinian selection in cold climates that raised northern IQs above the warm African level in the first instance. The unfortunate fact is that the modern welfare state works against this selection, precisely because its humane help to the poor, the dumb, and the infirm, make them survive and reproduce in great numbers, where they previously died. This cannot but increase the frequency of genes for low IQ, for deleterious mutations and for disposition to psychopathology, and the dysgenic process speeds up in future generations.

American researchers Herrnstein and Murray observed that increased welfare meant that low-IQ mothers began to have more children, and to have them earlier than highly educated mothers. Simple arithmetic shows that this gradually lowers average female IQ as well as national IQ. Researcher Gerhard Meisenberg from Dominica calculated that such factors make genotypic intelligence drop by 1,34 IQ points per decade. This does not sound like much but has a dramatic effect over time.

In addition to the harmful genetic effects produced by modern welfare states that do not follow a rational population policy, Denmark also suffers from massive low-IQ immigration from non-Western countries, a flow speeding up since 1983. A study from 2011 demonstrated that 98 percent of the immigrants entering Denmark had no professional training whatsoever. That forces Danish average IQ down for three different reasons. The first is simply that the higher the number of low-IQ immigrants, the more will they drag down average national IQ. Second, Danes have long suffered under a catastrophically low fertility rate, far below the replacement rate of 2.05 children per woman, so Danes become fewer by the day. Finally, the ethnic Danish population is rapidly ageing. The latter two factors mean that infertile ethnic Danes speed up the process of disappearing from the surface of the earth. The first factor means that fertile, generally younger, low-IQ immigrants continue to grow proportionally. Eventually they will make ethnic Danes a minority in their own country. I estimate that this happens before the end of the 21st century, at which time national Danish average IQ will have dropped by 5 points to 93 – and still going down. In this light it is worth remembering, that Finnish researcher Tatu Vanhanen was unable to find real democracies with an average IQs below 90. By approximately 2050 we may expect that non-Western immigrant children – with IQs between 75-80 – will form the majority in Danish primary schools. This is where the future is determined.

The message to take home here is that the welfare state and its low fertility work against natural selection and will make Danes a steadily dumber and receding ethnicity. Genetic decay and low IQ spell disaster for any democracy and welfare system. In fact, the harmful effects are already evident.

Where Danish school children could previously compete with the best in international analyses of achievement, like the PISA studies, they have now dropped deep down the scale. Tom Teasdale and David Owen of the University of Copenhagen's psychology department have found that the intelligence of Danish conscripts continued to rise since the 1950s, but around the turn of the millennium IQ had declined by 1.5 IQ points. Norwegian and British researchers observe similar downward trends. An increasing proportion of children now leave primary school without a certificate. Many immigrant children leave school as functional illiterates or drop out from later educational programs. Many never get a job, according to official statistics.

At a more general level, Gerhard Meisenberg from Dominica has estimated that a drop of 5 IQ points means a drop of 35 percent in GDP. According to my own research, a dramatic downsizing of the Danish economy will occur around the year 2070. This alone puts the very existence of the Danish welfare state at risk.

The sad situation is not unique for Denmark. Actually it is worse in Sweden. Not only has Sweden had more immigrants from non-Western countries than Denmark, but leading politicians even encourage further immigration. The first signs of an imminent catastrophe are already there. In many Swedish counties the social expenses to support non-Western immigrants and their children in need have exploded. For example, in Wexsjö, foreign born consume 23.5 times more money from the state than ethnic Swedes, and this is probably only the beginning. In all large Swedish towns ethnic Swedes are estimated to become a minority by 2050. A large city like Malmö is already close.

The demographic situation is still worse in Great Britain. Right now only 20 percent of all children born in London are offspring of the dwindling group of ethnic Brits, whereas the remaining 80 percent are from fertile immigrants. Clearly, non-Westerners are taking over Britain at exponential speed, that is, by doubling their number per time interval. Few people understand the dire consequences of exponential growth, but they will soon see a hard demonstration before their own eyes.

The bleak situation is characteristic of the rest of Europe too, perhaps with Eastern Europe as an exception. In the 14 largest German cities, every second child comes from a migrant family. Ethnic Europeans will soon be wiped out of their own countries by this ever-expanding colossal demographic transition. Their national average IQs go down in the process, and when an average national IQ of 90 is reached, down go also their democracies and welfare. This also happens to European-Americans in the US.

Yet, the subject is taboo almost everywhere. A scientific analysis of the Swedish situation was sent to all large newspaper in the country but not one dared take up the subject. Absolute Swedish silence, you can say. The European peoples have never been asked by their leading political and academic elites if this is what they want and the international agreements block any attempt to change this state of affairs.

Another largely neglected aspect of immigration from non-Western countries into Northern Europe is the following: The low intelligence of African migrants (average IQs between 68 and 75) will not only drag down, say, Danish IQ, but also constitutes an inexcusable brain drain from non-Western countries, where intelligent people are badly needed. An unknown number of migrants may have higher than average IQ for their country. This makes both the non-Western and the Western countries dumber, and everybody looses.

To sum up, not only Denmark but Europe and the US get dumber by internal dysgenic decay and by northbound mass-immigration. This will have catastrophic consequences for Western democracy and welfare, but non-Western countries will also suffer.

Unfortunately, most ruling (left- or right-oriented) Western leaders are not only seriously misguided by the illusion of equality but also blatantly ignorant of biological realities, so they can't see the elephant in the room. They eventually will, but that will be beyond the point of no return. By then they have already irreparably damaged the basic premise for the existence of a democratic welfare state: An average national IQ above 90.

One may wonder how they can be held responsible for this crime against democracy and humanity.
